Abstract

Write your abstract in this section for “Research Article” and “Study Note”. Abstract should be written with approximately 100 words. If abstract appears to be too long, you will be asked to shorten it by the Editorial Committee.

Keywords: Keyword 1, Keyword 2, Keyword 3, . . . (up to 5 keywords)

1. Section Heading

At the beginning of every paragraph, please use an indentation instead of simply hitting space bars several times.

Submitted manuscript(s) will be re-formatted by publisher with a Journal specific formatting style. Therefore, you do not have to worry about details of your submitting format (font, font size, spacing, columns, etc.). Published article is basically with font of Times New Roman (or similar font). However, for specific terms/sentences, you may use italics, bold font, and/or special fonts (Arial here) to emphasize specific words or sentences.

2. Formatting for References

For using references/citations, please follow APA Style. Details about APA style can be found on Internet. So, please make sure to check what the APA Style is and follow its rules. Very useful webpage is by the Griffith University “APA 7 Referencing guide: APA 7 examples”, which you can find the page at (<https://www.griffith.edu.au/library/study/referencing/apa-7#examples>).

When creating “Reference” section, please add DOI number for journal articles and ISBN-13 number for books. If the document is a report only published on the web, please indicate the date you downloaded the file and the URL where you downloaded.

3. Figures and Tables

Figures and tables should be labeled sequentially from the beginning of your manuscript as “Figure 1”, “Figure 2”, and “Table 1”, “Table 2” and so on. (Please do NOT use “Figure 2.1” and/or “Table 3.2”, which are usually used for books, not for articles.) And if any figure or table is used, it must be mentioned in the main body of the manuscript.

3.1. Heading for Figures and Tables

3.2. Locations of Figure Caption and Table Title

	A	B	C	D
Percentage*	6 %	31 %	44 %	19 %

* Total number of participants are NN.
